

Call by value first resolves the “values” before calling the function, while call by name first calls the function, gets the results and then resolves them.